

Land based and environmental jobs/careers

- Agricultural crops - producing and managing food crops such as cereal and root crops, non-food and industrial crops such as energy crops, crops for paper and materials like hemp.
- Agricultural livestock - dairy, beef, pigs, sheep and poultry. Also sales, research and policy development.
- Agribusiness - food distribution, international buying and trading of agricultural produce, agronomy (field crop production and soil management), agrichemicals, crop consultation, rural accounting and research.
- Aquaculture - breeding of fish, mainly salmon and trout.
- Floristry - selling and arranging flowers.
- Production horticulture - growing fruit, vegetables and plants.
- Land-based engineering - design development, manufacturing, field engineering, service engineering, environmental control, servicing, mechanisation, marketing and sales.
- Trees and timber - arboriculture (woodland management), forestry and timber processing.
- Land management - land agent and rural practice surveyor.

Animal health and welfare

- Animal care - kennels, catteries, animal welfare charities and the pet industry.
- Animal technology - the care and welfare of animals used in biomedical research.
- Equine - welfare, supervision, training and riding of horses.
- Farriery - shoeing of horses and other animals.

Environmental industries

- Environmental conservation - protection of rural and urban landscapes, habitat management, community recycling and countryside recreation.
- Fisheries management - angling, freshwater fisheries and conserving freshwater habitats.
- Game and wildlife management and gamekeeping.

- Landscaping - landscape architecture, garden design and amenity horticulture.